REFORM IN AUTO LAW URGED

Highway Board Man Tells Rotarians Here Vital
Needs In Legislation

TELLS RAPID GROWTH OF MOTOR TRAFFIC

Cites Discrepancy Between Funds and Mileage In Road Making Program

California must, at the earliest opportunity, conform to the distinct trend in motor vehicle legislation in other states, limit gross weights, stop the loading of trucks beyond their rated capacity, and graduate license fees according to the wear and tear on highways produced by motor vehicles, Charles A. Whitmore, member of the California highway commission told members of the Rotary club at St. Ann's Inn today.

"I think we will all admit that the automobile has outstripped the highway in development," Whitmore declared, in pointing out the urgent need for reforms in connection with vehicular traffic over state highways.

"In spite of our really splendid accomplishments in California—leading the United States in character and extent of state and county highway improvements—we are still facing an acute problem. This state leads the world in automobiles per capita, having one for every five and a fraction persons.

"When registration is complete this year, we will have close to 750,000, with more trucks registered than we had cars to start with. In 1912, there were 40,000 motor vehicles registered, with so few trucks that no separate listing was kept."

"A serious discrepancy has always existed between funds and mileage. The total sum so far available for construction from bonds, federal aid, etc., is about $84,000,000. This is $14,000 per mile for a 6000-mile system. But the average costs have been over $20,000 per mile. Therefore, the discrepancy is $6000 per mile, or $36,000,000 short of completing the system. Future average costs are going to be much higher.

"It becomes obvious, therefore, if we are to complete the old system, widen and surface existing main lines and finish the new roads added to the system by the last bond issue and by legislative enactment, that we must look to early additional financing. Up to the advent of winter weather the California Highway Commission was building highways at the rate of $300,000 per week. Its 1922 program contemplates $15,000,000 in new construction. At this rate, funds in hand will be exhausted by the end of 1923.

Favors Fee System Shift.
"To finance any part of future highway construction, or even adequate maintenance, through motor vehicle taxation will require a radical change in our present fee system, which is ridiculously low and grossly inequitable. No state in the Union, with a state and county highway system at all comparable to California, exacts as little toll from the users of highways.

"For the registration of a Ford, California charges $8.50, but it will register a pneumatic tired truck of equal horsepower for the same sum.

Street Car Air Tank Blast Kills Four; Razes Building

SLAYING THEORY IN MYSTERIOUS BEACH DEATH WINS GROUND

Funeral services for Julian P. Cumberland, wealthy retired rancher of Los Angeles, whose body, with a piece of railroad iron wired to the neck, was found on the sands near Sunset Beach last Saturday afternoon, will be held from the First Presbyterian church in Highland Park probably tomorrow afternoon, according to advices received here today from Mrs. Esther C. Kratz, daughter of the dead man.

The body was sent to Los Angeles last night from the Smith and Tutill funeral parlors here, where a coroner's inquest was held yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Marchant of Tustin today were planning to attend the funeral services. Mrs. Marchant is a cousin of Cumberland's wife.

Meanwhile, Sheriff C. E. Jackson, acting upon the theory that the rancher met with foul play, was continuing the investigation of the mysterious circumstances surrounding Cumberland's death.

Seek Missing Effects
The sheriff was awaiting word from Mrs. Kratz in Los Angeles concerning Cumberland's missing effects. These included his checkbook, which he invariably carried; a dustproof silver watch, with a Waltham or Hamilton movement; a small leather purse; a black derby hat, and a gray overcoat with a black velvet collar.

Mrs. Kratz, who said today that it was possible these articles were disposed of by persons who might have been responsible for her father's death, was endeavoring to secure from a Highland Park watchmaker named Erb the number of the watch which Cumberland recently left with the watchmaker for repairs. This and other information will be placed at the disposal of Sheriff Jackson.

"Although my father drew no money from the Highland Park bank on the day of his disappearance," said Mrs. Kratz today, "it would have been entirely possible for him to secure a large sum of money elsewhere.

Accounts Elsewhere
"He was not secretive, exactly, but he seldom discussed his business affairs with us. There were, however, other banks beside the Highland Park bank where he had large deposits. I think he had accounts with several banks, including those at Pomona, La Verne and Bakersfield."

Mrs. Kratz, who frankly admitted she was baffled by the circumstances surrounding her father's death, said she was far from being convinced that he committed suicide. Members of the family will make a careful check of Cumberland's bank accounts in an effort to determine whether he was the victim of a well-laid plot by bunko steers.

While inclined to credit the murder theory, Sheriff C. E. Jackson said he did not think Cumberland met his death in Orange county. The sheriff said that although it was possible that Cumberland could have knotted the baling wire around his neck sufficiently tight to cause strangulation, it seemed incredible that the man could have thrown himself into the sea after attaching the weight to his body.

"We will continue to work on the theory that Cumberland met with foul play," said Jackson. "I may be mistaken, but I can't rid myself of the belief that it was a case of murder."

The president has not even given the new certificate plan serious study, seeing insurmountable difficulties on the surface of the plan. It was emphatically stated that the president has in no wise changed the view set forth recently in the Fordney letter and that he has no intention of altering his stand in the slightest.

In accordance with the committee order, Chairman Fordney introduced the bill this afternoon.

WOMAN PERISHES IN HEALTH RESORT FIRE

LOS GATOS, Calif., March 7.—Mrs. Liba Mevin, aged 55, was burned to death and R. L. Seward, teacher in the Los Gatos high school, was seriously injured today when fire destroyed the Vista Grande hotel, a well-known health resort here.

Mrs. Mevin had been a guest at the hotel for several days and last night suffered a stroke of apoplexy. An oil heating stove was placed in her room to add to her comfort.

At 8 a. m. today, apparently, Mrs. Mevin attempted to leave her bed and in so doing, overturned the lighted stove. She died before a rescue party headed by Seward could reach her.

Lloyd George Wins Clash; Balfour Backs Coalition

LONDON, March 7.—"No man could have headed the government better than Lloyd George," Arthur J. Balfour declared in his speech before the City Carlton club here today.

"We must not weaken the government at this time by attempting to restore prematurely the two party system."

Balfour's speech has been anticipated as definite announcement that Lloyd George was determined not to resign at the present time.

"The country's best interests," continued Balfour, "have been and can be served by the coalition." He added, however, that he would remain a member of the unionist party for the rest of his life.

Balfour's speech was a glowing tribute to Lloyd George. He insisted that the treaty establishing the Irish free state will ameliorate conditions in Ireland.

At Lloyd's, where they lay odds against everything from rain drops to revolutions, the betting is 5-2-3 to 1 against the premier resigning during March.

ALLEGED ARMY SALE SWINDLE INVOLVING L. A. MEN IS BARED

(United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, March 7.—The federal grand jury has been convened for Friday when it will be asked to indict two army officers and four Los Angeles business men on charges of having carried out an alleged million dollar swindle in connection with the sale of government property at San Diego, Calif., the United Press was told authoritatively today.

One of the army officers has the rank of a field officer; it was stated. Department of justice agents uncovered the alleged fraud, which involved the auction of government goods at Camp Kearney. Goods said to have been worth more than $1,000,000, were sold for $150,000, according to the story to be laid before the grand jury.

Investigators claim that two of the men implicated have given them written statements amounting to confessions. They said the accused men already are preparing their defenses.

The alleged plot to defraud the government of upwards of $850,000 was hatched in a San Diego hotel, it was claimed. A dictaphone planted in a room occupied by the Los Angeles men was said to have transmitted every word to federal agents in an adjoining suite.

Meanwhile Colonel Phillips, commanding the Ninth army corps area, had been informed of what was in the air and arrived on the scene. Major Edgerton, director of

HARDING BALKS AGAINST NEW BONUS PLAN

(United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—President Harding "stands pat" against any method of providing a soldier bonus except through the sales tax, it was officially announced through the White House today.

Just before announcement of Harding's attitude, the house ways and means committee approved a soldier bonus bill and prepared to introduce it to the house.

The bill approved provides in substance:

- 1—Cash for men whose readjusted pay runs under $50.
- 2—Insurance certificates with a loan provision to needy soldiers, who can get 50 per cent advance at once from a bank.
- 3—Options in the way of vocational training, farm land grants or home building aid.

Postponement is the only alternative to the sales tax which President Harding will permit, it was stated on highest authority.

The president has not even given the new certificate plan serious study, seeing insurmountable difficulties on the surface of the plan. It was emphatically stated that the president has in no wise changed the view set forth recently in the Fordney letter and that he has no intention of altering his stand in the slightest.

In accordance with the committee order, Chairman Fordney introduced the bill this afternoon.

PERJURY CHARGE INVOLVES S. A. WITNESS IN FATTY TRIAL

Causing a mild sensation in Santa Ana, an echo of the first trial of Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter in San Francisco in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, was heard today when it was learned that Mrs. Frances Bates, wife of William Bates of this city, had been indicted by the grand jury in the northern city on a charge of perjury.

Dispatches received here said that Mrs. Bates, who lived at 1060 West Fourth street, had been indicted jointly with Mrs. Minnie Neighbors of Los Angeles.

The charges, it was stated, grew out of their testimony at Arbuckle's first trial.

On that occasion, dispatches said, Mrs. Bates testified that she had seen Miss Rappe hysterical in a Chicago department store in 1913. The district attorney, through witnesses, told the grand jury that Mrs. Bates had not worked in the store after 1910.

During the first trial, discharges added, Mrs. Neighbors testified that she had attended Miss Rappe while the latter was ill at Wheeler Hot Springs, Calif., last August.

Evidence designed to show that Mrs. Neighbors was not at the hot springs was brought before the grand jury by the district attorney. Questioned at her home today in regard to the indictment, Mrs. Bates said:

Refuses to Worry
"I'm not worrying about any charges they may have brought against me."

"I have been ill for several days," she added. "I have heard of the indictment, but I'm not worrying at all—you can say that for me."

"Further than that, I won't discuss the matter."

Mrs. Bates was employed in a local department store last summer. Her husband, William Bates, was formerly steward at St. Ann's Inn, but gave up his position there several months ago to accept a position as salesman.

Connecticut Suicide May Have Been Sands, Police Claim

HARTFORD, Conn., March 7.—Connecticut state police believe the body of a man found at Warehouse Point with a bullet hole in the forehead may be that of Edward F. Sands, suspected slayer of William D. Taylor, Los Angeles movie director.

The body was found February 19 on the shore of the Connecticut river. It was frozen in the snow. Nearby lay a .45 calibre revolver. It looked like a case of suicide. The clothing was of quality and there was $235 in the pockets. After several futile attempts at identification the body was buried at Windsor Locks a few days ago.

Since then its description has been checked up with that of Sands and a similarity discovered. The Los Angeles police have been unofficially notified of this, Robert T. Hurley, chief of state police, said.

FEAR SPREAD OF NEW UPRISING IN IRELAND

(United Press Leased Wire)
LIMERICK, March 7.—Irish Republican army troops, loyal to the provisional government, were closing in on Limerick today to prevent an attack upon the free state force here which had been ordered to evacuate by rebellious Republican troops who have invaded the town.

It was feared the Republican disaffection would spread to Cork, where many other rebels against the provisional government were ready for action.

The 48 hour ultimatum presented the free state garrison here by rebel leaders has nearly expired and rebellious Republican troops, outnumbering the loyal force by five to one, threatened to attack the barracks.

British troops here continued to assume responsibility for order in Limerick city, but a clash was feared. It was reported that ten companies of provisional government troops were on their way here from Dublin.

SCALE PERIL CONTROL CRUX IN BIG DEBATE

Brook Backers Say He Is Only Man to Wage Right Kind of War On Pests

The board of supervisors up to 2:40 p. m. today had taken no action with regard to the appointment of a county horticultural commissioner. It was understood that the matter would be held over for one week.

Demand of citrus interests' representatives for the appointment of A. S. Brock, of Ventura county, as Orange county horticultural commissioner brought the fight to oust Earl L. Morris, present commissioner, to a head today at the meeting of the board of supervisors, who deferred action upon the matter until this afternoon.

D. Eymann Huff, chairman and spokesman for the committee of the Orange County Fruit exchange, led the fight to install Brock in the position of county horticultural commissioner's office, with the question of citrus pest control as the battleground in the debate. A group of Morris adherents appeared to defend the present commissioner, chiefly representing two fruit associations from the northern part of the county.

The exchange committee, as stated, made their fight on the issue of controlling red scale and other citrus pests, and compared the qualifications of Brock and Morris to handle a county insectary and direct such a campaign, which is relied on to save the county many thousands of dollars annually.

Huff's Bombshell
Huff tossed a bombshell into the ranks of those who oppose his committee's recommendation that Brock be employed at a salary of $3,600 a year, to replace Morris, who is paid $2,400.

"My corporation, the Hewes Packing company," Huff told the supervisors, "is ready right now to join with one or two other associations in paying the entire salary of Brock and the expense of a county insectary if we can only get him to direct it. We know that he would save us many times the cost of his salary by controlling the citrus scale which cost us $13,000 for fumigation last year."

W. C. Maerhan, of Katella, R. E. Larter, George Rehman and others came to the defense of Morris.

"We've heard of Brock's qualifications, but what about Morris?" they asked. "Has he been examined or given a chance to show his ability? He has done good service as county commissioner and we, around Anaheim, are very well satisfied with him."

Demands 'Square Deal'
Maerhan demanded a "square deal" for Morris. Rehman, who is a member of the exchange committee which appeared in favor of Brock and had actually signed the recommendation of Brock, reversed his position, by frankly confessing that he felt "he had made a mistake."

The exchange committee answered with the claim that Morris, while never doubted by them as a man of worth and integrity, did not and could not have the qualifications which Brock would bring to the place.

"We once thought in our association that pest control was a comparatively simple matter," said N. T. Edwards, of Orange. "But we spent a lot of money finding out our mistake. Our investigations have shown us that there are a very, very few men in California who have the technical training that is absolutely requisite to successful control of citrus pests. Mr. Brock has those qualifications."

"Mr. Morris has not," Willard Smith, of Villa Park, added. "Nor could he, by any means, secure them short of two or three years of study," he continued. "Meanwhile, the county citrus growers would be losing a great deal of money."

Asks Delay
One Morris adherent asked for delay of decision until the people could secure more representation. Huff pointed out that his committee, which included Willard Smith, George Rehman, of Anaheim, C. E. Newman, of the San Joaquin Fruit company, N. T. Edwards, Orange, and Dr. McBeth, of the Bastanchury

HIGHWAY BOARD
MAN ADVOCATES

A twenty-passenger bus, if of equal horsepower, pays no more than a five-passenger Studebaker. California charges $10 for the registration of a 25-horsepower automobile, while the average for the United States is $14.90, including four states that still only make a nominal charge for the registration of all motor cars or trucks.

"But in our charges for trucks occurs the greatest injustice and inequality. Our fees being based on 40 cents per horsepower, with only a nominal flat charge additional on a weight basis for heavy trucks, results in a ridiculously inadequate charge for commercial use of highway investments. For instance, a 14-ton truck, solid tired, pays in this state an annual fee of $19.20, while the average for the United States is $32.70.

Cites Other States.

"Connecticut, Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, and Washington charge $10, West Virginia $50, Virginia $55. The fee for a 3 1/2-ton solid tired truck in California is $27.40 and the average for the nation $63.95. Only seven states charge less than California, while some of the others range as follows: Connecticut and Kentucky $90, Arkansas $97.50, Maryland, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia charge $100, Oregon $105, and North Carolina $200. The fee for a 5-ton solid tired truck in California is $32.60, while the average for the United States is $80.55.

"There are 20 states that charge this weight truck over $100—Georgia, Kentucky and Maryland charge $150, Arkansas and Connecticut $187.50, Mississippi, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and West Virginia $200, and Oklahoma $200.

"In addition to motor vehicle license fees of these proportions, fourteen states are levying a gasoline tax, twelve states of one cent per gallon and two states two cents per gallon. In only two of the above states are motor vehicle fees in lieu of other taxation, and these two states, Oregon and Pennsylvania, impose a gasoline tax, Oregon 2 cents per gallon and Pennsylvania 1 cent.

Overloads Big Menace.

"The great menace to highway permanency today unquestionably is the excessively heavy or overloaded truck. The hue and cry about the inadequacy of California's type of highway construction which has resulted in the two state automobile clubs is but a smoke screen to cover the real culprit.

"If it was only in this state that the damage to highways was occurring some credence might be placed in the charge, but every state which has improved highways is suffering from the same abuse, and the damage occurs whether the slab is 5 inches or 7 inches thick. There is almost universal complaint, and many states have already taken action to prevent the loss of their investments in highways.

"California must at the earliest opportunity conform to the distinct trend in motor vehicle legislation in other states to limit gross weights to that required to permit a 5-ton truck to be loaded to capacity, to stop the loading of other trucks beyond their rated capacity, and to graduate license fees according to the wear and tear of highways produced by a vehicle."

Wittmore stated that the commission contemplated advertising this summer for construction of the coast boulevard between Long Beach and Newport Beach, and that if rights of way deeds were secured work would start on the section between Huntington Beach and Newport, and the Alexander suit held up work on the Long Beach-Seal Beach end of the section. He also stated that shoulders would be added to the state highway from Tustin to Irvine, and from a point about one mile this side of the San Diego county line to Serra.

Dr. Kang Li, who has been in Washington for seven years and who was at the armament conference there, was a guest of the club today. He is on his way back to China. Having attended the university with the son of A. H. Borjo, and learning that Borjo was in Santa Ana for the winter, Dr. Li came from San Francisco for a visit with him. He was the guest of Gus Daley, brother-in-law of Borjo.

SATURDAY NIGHT
CLOSING HELD
BAD FOR CITY

Closing of stores Saturday night works against the business interests of Santa Ana, Albert Hill, hardware dealer told the directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association when they met today.

Hill declared that business was being driven from Santa Ana to other cities in the county by reason of the early closing of certain lines of business. He asserted that he frequently hears complaint at the store of Hill and Son by persons who drive into the city Saturday evening to make purchases and find most of the stores closed.

Uniform closing hours throughout the county was suggested, but discussion was dropped when it was disclosed that clothiers would oppose early closing, on the ground that Saturday evening is the only time laborers have for making purchases. No recommendation was made for attempting efforts to have those Santa Ana stores that close Saturday night remain open until 9 or 10 o'clock.

Closing of Bank Hours

Closing of city banks at noon Saturdays also came under discussion by the directors and the members in secret P. S. Lucas, secretary, to ascertain the sentiment of local bankers on a proposition to keep banks open until 1 p. m., or alternate in keeping one bank open in the afternoon until 3 o'clock or afternoon and evening until 9 o'clock.

Sam Hurwitz, a director, said that closing at 12 o'clock inconvenienced a large number of employees of the city who are paid by check and who are not given their checks until noon. He asserted that it placed upon the merchants the burden of carrying extra cash to take care of the checks, as most employees desired and needed their money Saturday afternoon.

Herbert Rankin, who presided in the absence of President Charles L. Davis, said that the Rankin Dry Goods company had to make provision for handling a large number of checks on the week-end afternoon.

Twenty-two members have been added to the M. and M. roster since February 1, Secretary Lucas announced as follows: Fred Avas, Andrews and Miller, Baker-Ruby, Rogers clothing store, Bureka Clothing store, Flower shop, Plaster and Dixon, Granger Electric company, Andy Jensen, James jewelry store, Katerella shoe store, Charles S. Kelly, H. W. Myrick, T. J. Neal, Orange County Hatchery, Lion Coffee house, Santa Ana Cabinet and Furniture company, Sebastian dry goods store, F. C. Starr grocery, Sanitary bakery, Santa Ana Electric garage, Santa Ana Monument works.

MRS. BROOKS RESIGNS
AS NURSE IN SCHOOLS

The resignation of Mrs. Ruby Brooks, school nurse and attendance officer, will probably be accepted at the monthly meeting of the board of education at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Brooks, who is visiting at Los Angeles, was seized with an illness which makes the continuance of her work impossible, according to a letter received today by Superintendent J. A. Cranston. It is believed that County Attendance Officer W. C. Roberts will attend to that branch of the work in the city schools. The office of school nurse will probably be abandoned, it was stated.

REMAND BOY IN THEFT
CHARGE FOR HEARING

John Swall, 16, charged with grand larceny in connection with the alleged theft of a Ford automobile belonging to H. D. Rumbaugh, of Santa Ana will receive a preliminary examination March 17 at 2 p. m. before Justice J. B. Cox.

Swall was certified to the juvenile court yesterday by Justice Cox, but was remanded again to the justice court because there seemed to be doubt as to the defendant's exact age and because he was also said to have shown a disposition to deny the charge.

The defendant had been bound over to the superior court once before, on a check charge, which was not pressed.

TO PROBATE WILL

CLAIM MRS. MARKS IS ALSO FIGURE IN L. A.
MOTOR CRASH TANGLE

Preliminary examination of Mrs. Betty Marks, originally set for 2 p. m. today, was continued by Justice J. B. Cox to April 10 at 2 p. m. upon motion of the defense.

It was stated by the authorities today in this connection that Mrs. Marks's non-readiness to proceed with the case may have to do with the report received here that since her arrest on the charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, she figured in another automobile accident case in Los Angeles.

According to the authorities, Mrs. Marks's auto collided with a Los Angeles street car, injuring two men, who were said to have been with her. Her car, it was stated, was taken from her at the time.

army sales, also rushed to the coast from Washington to aid in the roundup.

Sealed bids which the government had received for some of the preliminary lots of goods were said to have been opened and discussed by buyers who were "in the know."

If a buyer wished to get a lot of goods which sealed bids had been received, according to the evidence collected by the government operatives, he would raise the highest bid a fraction of a dollar.

On the day of the sale outside buyers collected from New York, Kansas City, points in Texas and elsewhere. They were unable to buy however. The "freeze out" system is said to be working perfectly.

With all the goods formally sold, however, the asserted conspirators received a surprise when Camp Kearney officials received an order from Secretary of War Weeks forbidding them to deliver a single dollar's worth of the goods.

The alleged plotters were struck with consternation. None of them dared to flee, because of their heavy business interests here. Two of the weaker members hurried to "get in out of the rain," and made complete confessions, implicating the entire clique.

These confessions, with dictaphone transcripts and a volume of evidence will be placed before the federal grand jury Friday.

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—The Camp Kearney auction sale, at which a million dollars' worth of army supplies was offered for sale, started on February 20 and continued for several days.

A score of huge warehouses held everything from horse blankets to artillery trucks, left over from the recent war period, when the 40th division trained at Camp Kearney.

A huge catalogue was issued and buyers came to the city from many parts of the country.

The sale was attended by several hundred interested persons. Those in charge refused to make public the list of buyers and the materials purchased, with the price, as the sale progressed.

STATUTORY CASE IS

Delay in the trial, originally scheduled for today, was granted at request of Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley for the purpose of further investigation of the case.

Castillo's accuser is a Delhi Mexican woman. She asserts that he used a knife to threaten her. Castillo denies that he threatened her, or that she objected to his attentions.

ranch, who was absent, represented practically the entire citrus industry of the county, since it was appointed by the two exchanges.

Members of the board of supervisors expressed unwillingness to vote on the question without giving it further consideration. The matter was, therefore, laid over until the afternoon session, being scheduled to be taken up again at 2 p. m.

Brook, who is proposed as a successor to Morris by the exchange committee, is now with a Santa Paula fruit association. He is rated as a specialist on citrus pests.

It is this special technical training which the exchange representatives insist is necessary in Orange county. The scale damage to orchards and the expense of fumigation demands prompt and adequate attention, they assert.

Says Dinger Unrealized

"The growers of the county are not awake to the situation," C. F. Newman stated following the board meeting today. "There is a real and immediate necessity for securing a man who can and will exercise the initiative and apply the technical knowledge to stamp out the citrus pests and stop the enormous losses sustained by the growers each year from this source."

FILE INSANITY PLEA
IN ASSAULT CHARGE.

With the filing of affidavits of insanity today, preparations were made for a hearing March 10 at 9 a. m. before Superior Judge Z. B. West to determine the sanity of I. G. Hunt, of Fullerton, who is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Hunt was recently arraigned in department two of the court, where his attorney, J. H. Lyon, of Fullerton, advanced the opinion that the man was mentally irresponsible at the time he entered a tent occupied by four men near the Fullerton reservoir and fired a shot from a revolver when they refused to hold up their hands.

URGES ADHERENCE TO CONSTITUTION IN TALK

ORANGE, March 7.—Stressing the importance of strict adherence to the Constitution of the United States, Harry F. Atwood, representing the Better American Federation, at the monthly meeting of the Orange Chamber of Commerce last night, said that every good citizen should familiarize himself with the tenets of the constitution and apply them in his daily occupation.

Seventy-eight guests heard Atwood's address. Dinner was served by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Orange Post of the American Legion.

George C. Sherwood, district superintendent of schools, presented to the Chamber the proposed bond issue of $60,000 to cover the cost of a new grammar school at Cambridge and Palm streets. The Chamber went on record as endorsing this proposal, which will be presented to the voters of the district at an election to be held March 25.

PREPARES TO FIGHT
CHARGE OF SELLING
LIQUOR NEAR DELHI

L. Pitts, 71, of Delhi, was arraigned today before Justice J. B. Cox on a charge of selling liquor to which he filed a plea of not guilty through his attorney, Charles D. Swanner.

Trial of the case was set for April 27 at 10 a. m.

Pitts, who is being held in jail under $200 cash bail, demanded a jury trial. He was arrested last night by Sheriff C. E. Jackson at the home of Pitts's daughter and son-in-law near the sugar factory at Delhi.

Since Pitts has prepared to fight prosecution Jackson announces his intention of filing another liquor charge against him.

WEST SIDE FOLK IN IMPROVEMENT MOVE

Asking that Bristol street be straightened, representatives from the West Side Improvement association today planned to take up with the city that proposition, following action at a meeting of the organization last night at the Franklin school. Between fifty and sixty members of the association were present.

A committee composed of E. W. Waters, the Rev. H. C. Basney and J. C. Hamill was appointed to investigate plans for the erection of danger signs on each side of the Franklin school.

At present there are no such warnings to motorists and the committee plans to take up the matter with the Southern California Automobile club in an effort to have signs erected.

The association voted in favor of keeping Hesperia street open and plans to forward a communication to the city council to that effect.

R. H. Mulchan, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Southern California Finance and Housing company, made a half hour's address regarding building finances and plans.

The next meeting of the West Side Improvement association will be held March 20.

CONSIDERS JUDGMENT
AS CIVIL CASE ENDS

The civil action in which Alfred G. Miller brought suit for $300 against H. M. Jones in connection with a note given in payment for an automobile was under advisement today with Justice J. B. Cox, who conducted the trial late yesterday.

Miller, a member of the firm of Miller and Monhouse, was assigned the note, which was given to the firm by Jones as an initial payment on the car. Jones, in defending the case, argued that a car he had turned in to the firm for sale by them, the proceeds to be applied on the price of the car sold to Jones, had not been handled as agreed.

It was further argued by Otto Sandaker, attorney for Jones, that the plaintiff had repossessed the car sold to Jones, thus cancelling the note given by Jones for its purchase.

52 MILES SPEED CASE

Illness of J. L. Taylor, charged with speeding his automobile at a rate of 52 miles an hour, caused a continuance today of his trial before Justice J. B. Cox from tomorrow to March 15 at 10 a. m.

RICH MAN SUED
FOR $50,000 BY EX-S. A. GIRL

Miss Melba M. Chandler, 22, former Santa Ana girl, today was the center of a vortex around which sensational charges eddied in Los Angeles courts.

Alleging that Earl Rivers Osborn, a Los Angeles man well advanced in years, and said to be wealthy, had taken advantage of the fact that she was innocent and unsophisticated when she entered business life there, Miss Chandler has on file a suit against Osborn for $50,000 for injuries that she says she sustained at the hands of the defendant.

Miss Chandler lived here for a number of years and was well known. She formerly held positions with a local theater, a confectionery and a grocery.

According to the complaint on file in the Los Angeles courts, Osborn is worth $500,000 and a man who is thoroughly familiar with the ways of the world. Miss Chandler alleges that he represented to her that he would grant her a luxurious life the balance of her life if she would listen to him. When she became ill, she asserts that Osborn persuaded her to enter into a contract whereby she was to receive $1750 in liberty bonds and his note for $2000, in consideration of which she was to release him from all claims and responsibility. She charges that the agreement is void because she was ill at the time and not in condition to discuss monetary affairs.

Osborn has filed an answer to the complaint in which he denies all the allegations of the complaint and in which he states that the agreement of July 19, last, referred to by Miss Chandler, was for other matters than set forth in her complaint.

YOUTH HOLDS UP BUSINESSMAN IN PARK

Appearance of a youthful bandit, attired in coveralls, who daringly held up C. B. Showalter, local business man, in Birch park twenty feet from a street corner light, interested the Santa Ana police today.

The "coverall bandit" was described as not more than 17 or 18 years old by Showalter, who is manager of the M. Eltiste and Son implement establishment on West Fourth street. In the robbery, which took place at about 6:35 p. m. yesterday, the bandit relieved Showalter of $7 or $8 in cash.

Showalter was but a few feet from the edge of the park, near Second and Ross streets, when confronted in the path by the youth, who stepped forth from the shadows of the shrubbery and covered Showalter with a blue steel revolver.

The interview between bandit and was interrupted almost but not quite before the cash transfer was accomplished, when a small boy's approach caused the bandit to hurry his departure.

The bandit was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, Showalter said. His coveralls were of a dark hue and he wore a cap.

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, March 7.—The market on the New York Stock exchange today was largely a specialty affair, although the standard issues maintained a firm tone throughout the session.

Corn Products and American Ice made new record high prices for the year. Steel stocks showed an inclination to advance early in the day on the announcement of an increase in prices by the Jones and Laughlin company, but the move here was not of long duration.

American Can got into high ground for the year on heavy buying. One of the best known banking groups in the city has been a buyer of its stock for the last two months. The preferred stock today sold close to 105 as compared with a low last year of 76 3/4.

Certain well known stock market observers have been insisting for several days that there must be a material reaction before the upward move in stocks should be renewed. On this basis they have been offering down first one group of stocks and then another, but are making little headway. Failures to break Steel Common is a discouraging point in their attempt to cause any general reaction. And Steel Common has been the real leader of the market over the last two months, with a recovery in price of more than twenty-five points from the low of last year.

Closing prices included: U. S. Steel, 94 1/8; Crucible, 57; Baldwin, 106 1/2; U. S. Lumber, 99 1/4; Mexican Petroleum, 125 1/2; Texaco, 46 5/8; Studebaker, 99 1/4; U. S. Rubber, 59 1/2; U. S. Kelly Springfield, 43 3/4; U. S. American Ice, 101 3/4; U. S. 1-2; Rock Island, 40 5/8; U. S. Southern Pacific, 84 1/8; U. S. Consolidated Gas, 104 1/2; U. S. American Woolen, 87 7/8; off 1-8.

EFFORT TO PUNISH DRAFT DESERTERS GETS NEW IMPETUS

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A fresh impetus has been given to the apprehension and punishment of draft deserters during the World War. The action of congress in adopting a few days ago a joint resolution regarding the status of deserters from the military and naval service of the United States during the war, has done two important things, in the opinion of officers of the war department.

1.—It has made absolutely airtight the authority of the war department to continue its work of seeking out and punishing these deserters.

2.—It has vindicated the policy of the war department in undertaking and carrying on this work.

Victim was brief, Showalter said. It was interrupted almost but not quite before the cash transfer was accomplished, when a small boy's approach caused the bandit to hurry his departure.

The bandit was about 5 feet 6 inches tall, Showalter said. His coveralls were of a dark hue and he wore a cap.

REPORT LIQUOR BANDIT CHIEF ON BORDER

(United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Tony Goursolle, jitney driver, wanted as an alleged leader of the gang, which staged the sensational robbery of the Julian Hart home at Menlo Park nearly a week ago, was seen yesterday driving an automobile near the Mexican border, police were told today.

Requests to officers at border towns to watch for him were sent out. Police did not say in what town he was seen.

Clifford J. Rollins, insurance solicitor and former vocational training teacher at the Palo Alto, Calif., base hospital, and John Walsh, said to be on parole for burglary, were to be turned over to San Mateo county authorities today charged with being two members of the bandit gang which robbed the Hart residence.

The two were arrested late yesterday by police here. Rollins was identified by members of the Hart family as "CHIEF" the "roughneck" of the bandit gang, police said. He was arrested after the identification of his photograph and in an alleged confession gave information which led to the arrest of Walsh.

Detectives said today they expected to have two more members of the gang in custody soon.

PRESIDENT MOVES TO AVERT COAL STRIKE

WASHINGTON, March 7.—President Harding has asked Secretary of Labor Davis to insist that the coal miners and operators meet in a national conference to avert the nationwide coal strike threatened for April 1, it was stated officially at the White House today.

The president believes that the operators and miners must join in such a conference in order to keep faith with the agreement signed in March, 1920.

DEMANDS NEW PROBE OF NEWBERRY AFFAIR

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A resolution for investigation by a special senate committee of statements by Senator Poinexter relating to influence brought to bear on the senate in the Newberry case was introduced today by Senator Caraway, Arkansas, Democrat.

The resolution was referred to the elections committee. It stated that Poinexter had charged that malign influences were used to influence the votes of senators in seating Newberry. It provided for appointment of three senators to investigate.

HOLDS SOLONS ARE ELIGIBLE TO POST ON WAR DEBT BODY

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Senator Smoot, Utah, and Representative Burton, Ohio, are eligible to serve as members of the foreign debt refunding commission, Attorney General Daugherty said today in giving what he termed his "curbstone opinion."

Daugherty said he had not given the question close study, but from his knowledge of the constitutional limitations involved in this case he believed Smoot and Burton can serve.

A senate judiciary sub-committee recently held the two were ineligible.

DISCRIMINATION IN WAGES IS CHARGED

(United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, March 7.—Railroads are discriminating in favor of the "big four" brotherhoods against other classes of employees it was charged today before the United States railroad labor board.

Union leaders representing organizations of railroad workers outside of the brotherhoods asked the board to postpone hearing on the demand of carriers for a ten per cent wage reduction until conferences can be held between the workers and the employers.

Such conferences are now in progress between the brotherhoods and the railroads. The other unions held that the discrimination rested in railroads refusing to negotiate with other unions.

POLISH CABINET GIVES UP OFFICE

WARSAW, March 7.—Failure of the representatives of Vilna and Poland to agree on the terms establishing Vilna as a part of the republic, has resulted in the resignation of the Polish cabinet under Premier Poniakowski.

The Vilna delegates refused to sign the act because it did not provide for immediate union, but only a later adjustment of the question. The cabinet held out for the Polish terms and in its stand is reported to have had the secret support of the entente allies.

A three-day celebration, which had been planned in connection with the signing, has been canceled and the delegates are reported to be returning to Vilna.

The Vilna diet on February 21 voted 96 to 6 for complete incorporation with Poland and repudiated all Russian or Lithuanian claims for the district.

"TAPPING" PLANNED FOR U. C. CHEATERS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Hereafter there will be a "tapping on the floor" when a student at the University of California is caught cheating in examinations. The tapping will not be done by spooks, but by the one who catches the student cheating. The tapping arrangement will supplement the honor system of reporting cheaters to the student affairs committee.

The case will be reported just the same, it is explained, and in addition thereto, the cheater will be "bawled out" right in class by tapping on the floor. It is believed the arrangement will reduce the number of cases to be handled by the student affairs committee.

SNOW IN TEXAS IS FIRST IN 35 YEARS

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., March 7.—Flurries of snow, the second in nearly 35 years, were reported from the eastern part of Hidalgo county in the cold wave which drove the temperature in the lower Rio Grande valley from 87 degrees Wednesday to 33 today.

Citrus was said to be safe because of the rain which accompanied the storm.

EMPORIA ON BATH 'RATIONS.'
EMPORIA, Kan., March 7.—Rain here and in the watersheds of the Neosho river, from which the city water supply here comes, was received with rejoicing here today, not only because of its benefits to crops, but because it will mean unlimited supply of water for Emporia bath-tubs. Emporia has been virtually on a ration system, so far as bath water went, since last summer.

JAPANESE PREMIER FACES FALL, CLAIM

By CLARENCE DU BOSE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
TOKIO, March 7.—Downfall of the government of Premier Takahashi was declared inevitable by well-informed political leaders today.

These statements were made after the premier appealed to the house to adopt the budget now under consideration, even if its adoption should carry with it the inference of lack of confidence in the cabinet. It was thought probable that leaders would make every effort to delay the crisis in governmental affairs until after the visit of the Prince of Wales is completed, in order that it may not interfere with his official reception and entertainment.

Baron Goto, former minister of foreign affairs, Admiral Saito, governor general of Korea, Baron Den, former minister of communications, and governor of Formosa, and Count Yamamoto, former premier, were looked upon as the most likely possibilities for successor to Premier Takahashi.

Smart Bridge Tea Given by Trio of Young Matrons At James' Gold Room

Never did the gold room at James' offer a more charming appearance than yesterday afternoon when it was the scene of a bridge tea given by Mrs. George Paul Jr., Mrs. Harold Yost and Mrs. Fred Stever.

As the guests arrived they were greeted by the trio of charming young matrons and ushered to the gold room, where a harmonious lavender and pink color scheme was in evidence against the gleaming background.

A large central table held a great poly chrome basket filled with shell pink roses and lavender hyacinths, while a tray in the same lovely decorations held the attractive tally cards embodying the same color tones, and further embellished by loose clusters of posies.

Glossy ferns on tall polychrome stands, a rose shaded lamp and countless baskets filled with fragrant blooms of roses and hyacinths, made the setting one of unusual beauty for the beautifully gowned guests.

Bridge was the diversion, and Mrs. Clayton Lane, holding high score was presented with a handsome bronze lamp, while the gift of a fruit bowl in a charming areware with accompanying knife fell to the lot of Miss Margorie Ellis, and a consolation gift of an incense burner was bestowed on Mrs. Felton Browning.

When the dainty refreshments were served, the tables were decked with crystal bowls filled with nodding pink roses, lavender hyacinths and maidenhair fern while the fees were exquisitely fashioned roses in the prevailing tints of rose or lavender. These were served with French pastries and the small nut cups at each place were lavender roses decked with a fluffy tulle bow in the folds of which nestled an exquisite hand-made rose, as a dainty favor for each guest.

Former Santa Ana Girl Claimed In Marriage By Arizonan

Former school friends of Miss Olive Myrtle Wright, daughter of Mrs. Alcino V. Wright of Long Beach, were deeply interested today in the announcement of her marriage to Charles Andrews Ballentine of Douglas, Ariz., which was solemnized in Los Angeles, February 8, 1922.

All of Miss Wright's school days were spent in this city, where she is lovingly remembered by a host of the young people as one of the leaders in the school set.

Several years ago the family home was removed to Douglas and it was there that the romance which culminated in the February wedding was begun.

Mrs. Wright and her daughter returned to California about six months ago, making their home in Long Beach, and in February, Mr. Ballentine came to claim his bride. The wedding, a very quiet one, took place in Los Angeles in the presence of only their nearest and dearest, and after a short stay in California, it is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Ballentine will return to the Arizona city to make their permanent home.

Mrs. Wright plans to remain in Long Beach for the present.

High School Students Hear Noted Speaker

Considering themselves particularly fortunate, the girls of Santa Ana high school and junior college yesterday had the pleasure of hearing an address on physical and social hygiene delivered at the auditorium in the afternoon by Mrs. Bertha Chapman Cady.

Mrs. Cady is field agent of the Co-operative Research department, with the United States Interdepartmental Social Hygiene board, Stanford University, state department of physical education and the University of California, co-operating in forming the department.

She is sent out to lecture before teachers' colleges throughout the state, and it was by a fortunate chance that she was free for one afternoon while in this vicinity and so able to appear before the local students.

The talk was on the need of strong, vigorous women in the world's work and the large part that correct physical education takes in fitting girls and women for their place in the world's affairs.

Mrs. Cady, a Phi Beta Kappa, held the undivided attention of the students who gathered at the auditorium at 2:45. From Santa Ana she was going to San Diego, where she is scheduled to give a series of ten lectures.

ORANGE COUNTY NEWS

INTERESTING EVENTS
MARK SCHOOL MONTH

SERRA-BY-THE-SEA, March 7.—Although the shortest of all the months, February proved an eventful one for the school of Serra-by-the-Sea.

The first event was "moving day," and all were delighted to exchange the old school house for a more roomy, better lighted building near the ocean. The fourteenth was celebrated in a Valentine hunt, yet ever new—a valentine hunt, a hunt where all were successful.

Owing to illness, the Lincoln-Washington program for the parents had to be given up, but the twenty-second was celebrated by the pupils in a manner much to their liking, a party with games and refreshments.

The twenty-third gave a hearty welcome to Marjorie and Donald Frichard after their three weeks of illness.

The twenty-fourth brought Superintendent Mitchell, whose visit was greatly appreciated as well as the part holiday he decreed so the contract meeting could be held in the building.

UNIVERSITY LIFE
LACKING IN FRANCE

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—University life is vastly different in the United States from what it is in France, in the opinion of Professor Jacques Cavalier, rector of the University of Toulouse, who is in the city to begin his one-month term as exchange professor at Penn.

In this the advantages favor the American students.

"There are so many college activities and so many fraternities and clubs here, which seem to unify the student body and give them much more esprit de corps," said Prof. Cavalier.

"Students in French universities must seek social life outside the university circles," he said. "If they have a desire for it, there are not only no fraternities there, but there are no dormitories in most of the French universities, although recently dormitories for women have been built at two of the three large institutions of learning."

Discussing the differences in scholastic training, Professor Cavalier said that America directs its teaching to a more practical end, and devotes less deeply into the theory of mathematics and science than does France in its university instruction.

Prof. Cavalier is unwilling to make any further comparisons because he says that systems of instruction in France and America are so different.

He was appointed to the post of exchange professor by the minister of public instruction in France, in accordance with the arrangement made with the committee of American universities on exchange with France of professors in engineering and applied sciences, and he comes to Pennsylvania after having completed terms at Yale, Cornell, Columbia and Johns Hopkins.

Prof. Cavalier is French in appearance. He wears a Van Dyke beard, which he strokes frequently, especially when he is searching his English vocabulary for the proper word to express a thought. He speaks French rapidly and fluently, and much prefers his native tongue.

FLOUR FOR ARMENIANS

BETTER THAN CALUMET

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel.

Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

HE'S JUST A DOG IS
"PAL" IN "FOOL'S PARADISE."

He's just a dog and his name is "Pal" but for all of that he is one of the most talented actors on the screen. Cecil B. De Mille recently paid tribute to "Pal's" ability as an actor. The dog plays an important part in the story of "Fool's Paradise," now at the West End.

"That dog has more ability than many human beings who think they are potential screen stars," said De Mille. "He obeys instantly, does what is required of him and does it well—and he never complains."

"That's more than I can say of some screen actors. 'Pal' is never sensitive about his place before the camera; matters of wardrobe, makeup and lighting do not bother him or his work. He is always willing and always ready."

NOTABLE FEAT IS ACCOMPLISHED IN "THE SHEIK."

Bringing not only the desert but the dwellings and people of the desert to the screen, is the feat accomplished by the production staff in the filming of George Melford's production, "The Sheik," now at the Temple.

The feat in question consisted of building a complete village in the center of the "Argyle lot" at the Lasky studio. Picturesquely Arabic and technically perfect, it represents one of the most notable achievements in present day picture-making.

This village is the fortified stronghold of the robber sheik, Ibrahim Omar, who is the villain of the story. In the picture it is attacked and captured by the Sheik, thus furnishing the background for much of the stirring battle action of the drama. Rudolph Valentino, who plays the title role, leads the attacking force against the robber sheik—played by Walter Long—for the possession of the leading feminine character, Diana, portrayed by Agnes Ayres.

WINIFRED WESTOVER-HART
AT THE PRINCESS TONIGHT.

It was an unhappy discovery when "Anne of Little Smoky" realized that her father was a law-breaker and the man she loved was a keeper of the law. The Brocktons—the Fighting Brocktons they were called—had all ways hunted and timbered at will in the beautiful mountainous region of Little Smoky. And then came the law, breeding hatred, vengeance and disorder!

And those Fighting Brocktons challenged the law! They were fearless, full of cunning and trickery. The Ranger was clever, patient and vigilant. But what happened further he can best be related on the screen of the Princess theater, where the Playgoers feature "Anne of Little Smoky," will be shown tonight. It is enacted by a splendid cast headed by Winifred Westover (Mrs. William S. Hart) Dolores Cassinelli, Joe King and Frank Sheridan.

Mr. Martin is erecting two fine large chicken houses and will do away with all the small houses, thus making less work and great convenience.

Henry Belt and Miss Bertha have been on the sick list but are reported much better.

The Berrydale community club met at Mrs. George Goodwin's. A most pleasant afternoon was spent and a delightful luncheon was served.

The next afternoon meeting will be with Mrs. T. Barrett and the card party will be held March 11 at the William Martin residence.

Mrs. William West is contemplating making another stay at Elsinore Springs.

The William Mize pretty home is about completed.

Mrs. Schmid came yesterday from Los Angeles to join her husband who is stopping with William Martin. Schmid is a retired architect from Philadelphia.

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—San Franciscans have responded liberally to the appeal of the Lincoln Memorial university, according to advice received from Washington, where headquarters have been established for directing the drive for an endowment fund of $2,000,000.

The university is located at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., and is devoted to the education of white children of that mountain section. It was established in 1897 and has enjoyed a steady growth since that time. There are about 700 students in attendance at present and the faculty numbers thirty. The campaign for the endowment fund was undertaken coincident with the 113th anniversary of Lincoln's birthday.

The buffalo was supplied by the federal government from the park at Wainwright, Alberta.

POLY TRACK TEAM IN T IPTOP SHAPE
FOR MEET WITH LONG BEACH OUTFIT

Athletes Will Clash On Local Track Tomorrow Afternoon; Santa Ana Squad Also on Edge for Event at San Diego On Coming Friday

Coach Ray Adkinson's Poly speedsters were today making final preparations for the meet with Long Beach to be held here tomorrow afternoon.

The Pacific Iowans are said to be possessed of considerable ability and fleetness, and it is regarded as a good test for the local lads, who have been performing well this year. It is thought likely that the track may be sufficiently near completion to be used tomorrow, but if not, the affair may be held on the track of a neighboring school.

On Friday the team meets San Diego in a return contest. When the Bay city lads came north and clashed with Poly on the Anaheim track, Adkinson's men were decisively victorious. At that time, however, the San Diegans had but few men on their teams and were consequently handicapped.

The situation will be reversed when the Santa Anans go south, for but ten men may be taken on the trip, while San Diego will have the entire school at her disposal. The lads will start Thursday afternoon.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Four Chicago labor chiefs were acquitted late today following a trial on charges to extort graft from contractors. It was charged by the prosecution that the for "shook down" owners of the buildings for large sums on promises to call off strikes.

Those freed were Simon O'Donnell, former president of the Chicago Building Trades council; Albert Green, business agent of the Painters' union; William Schardt, Carpenters' District Council, and Michael Artery, business agent of the machinery movers' union.

New Jersey Law Locks Doors Against
Dempsey, Wills Battle

TRENTON, N. J., March 7.—New Jersey has locked her doors against the proposed Dempsey-Wills bout.

The Evans bill, placing a maximum price of $15 on a seat at a boxing show and requiring promoters to be a resident of the state, removes this state as a possible scene for the encounter.

The measure is not aimed at the big fight, however, as it was introduced before the Dempsey-Wills thing was talked about.

RUPPERT PREDICTS
RUTH WILL HANG UP
NEW HOMER RECORD

NEW YORK, March 7.—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, president of the Yanks, expects Babe Ruth to make a new home run record this coming season.

"The handicap of five weeks will be an asset to him, as he always does his best work under pressure," said Ruppert.

Erin Ward, holdout infielder, will have to quit baseball if he wants $10,000 a year, he said.

AGENTS FIND MASH
AND HUNGRY HOGS

EUREKA, March 7.—When is a still still a still? Prohibition officers here want an answer. They descended suddenly upon a hog ranch near Bayside and found several large barrels of mash, as well as a drove of hungry hogs. But there was no still in evidence.

Pretending to abandon the search they returned to Eureka, only to visit the ranch again. In the barn they found the ranch owner busily engaged in cutting a coil of pipe into sections an inch long.

The mash and hogs had disappeared. "I fed the mash to the hogs and sold the hogs. This copper may have been a still. Use your own judgment," advised the ranch owner. He was not arrested.

HUGE SALARIES ARE HURTING GAME, VIEW

Expert Blames Magnates as Players Holding Out for Big Sums

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 7.—Tons of the razz will fall upon the pitcher who slips this coming season and grooves one for Babe Ruth. Every time the Ban does his "500 stuff" a few wise crackers will howl that the pitcher is getting a cut for letting him.

This is but a natural result of the over-commercialized condition of all professional sports. No one is to blame but the club owners themselves.

Commissioner Landis, with all his time now to keep the game straight, could put in a couple of hours a day to good advantage by muzzling the big talking moguls.

Many fans figure that Babe Ruth is not worth the $300,000 that will come to him through his three year contract. If he isn't worth that much the club owners have made him think so and he is cashing in on their valuation.

When the swat king was suspended by Commissioner Landis, the moguls shrieked from the house tops that they would lose various sums from $40,000 to $200,000 each while he was out of the game.

If Ruth draws $500,000 each year into the American league gates he's worth half of it and no one can blame him for cashing in when the magnates, especially the ones who do not have to pay him, are so kind as to tell him how good he is.

Discontent prevails generally through the ranks of players because the club owners have insisted upon featuring the money end of the sport. If the magnates have not been making barrels of money, they have been giving that impression and the players cannot be blamed for wanting some of it.

Ever since Landis took charge of baseball, it has been contended by many close to the sport that the club owners needed as much investigation as the players.

HEARING ON TRAIN
CRASH SUSPENDED

PLAINESVILLE, O., March 7.—Following an investigation to fix responsibility for the crash between the New York Central fast mail and a Fairport bound motor bus, in which fifteen persons were killed, authorities announced further hearing of witnesses will be discontinued until Tuesday afternoon. Taking of testimony by County Coroner Dr. M. H. Bradley was delayed in hopes the injured would recover sufficiently to testify tomorrow.

GIRLS HOLD UP ESCORT
LOS ANGELES, March 7.—W. T. Taylor at a public dance hall requested the pleasure of escorting two comely girls home and they consented. Several blocks away at a dark corner, one of the girls softly said: "Stick 'em up, honey, and hold 'em high," punctuating her remarks with a pistol. The other girl caressingly removed $36 from Taylor's pockets and they bid him a fond good night.

FILM LEADERS TO OUST UNDESIRABLES

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—In order to place the motion picture industry upon the highest possible plane, the Federation of Art has been organized in Hollywood. Its membership is made up of four organizations, the Writers' Guild, the Cinematographers' association, the Actors' Equity and the Motion Picture Directors' association.

Although its purpose in general is to further the good of motion pictures, the federation plans to take vigorous action against the undesirable in the motion picture industry. Actors or other members of the industry who refuse to conduct their private lives according to the highest standards are to be drummed out of camp, so to speak.

The writers, through their representatives, will refuse to sell their stories; the cinematographers will refuse to photograph them; the Actors' Equity will refuse to appear in pictures with them and the members of the directors' association will refuse to direct them.

Each of the four associations which go to make up the federation will elect three members to a central board of directors who will enforce these rules.

Frank Woods, production manager of Famous Players-Lasky is the leader of the movement for reform from within, said:

"We feel that we have the right to inquire even into private lives. This because of the great influence that stars have come to have upon the lives of the public. At any rate, we are firm in the determination that the picture business shall be absolutely clean from top to bottom. All but a few motion picture people are living the right kind of lives. Those who do not in the future choose to bring their standards up to the standards of our industry as a whole will find themselves quietly dropped into oblivion."

Scholarship Awards
to Ex-Service Men
Are Still Open

Through the generosity of the War Council of the Y. M. C. A., it has been made possible for ambitious ex-service men, for a limited time, to enroll for spare-hour courses at half of the usual tuition fees. This unusual opportunity is still open.

More than 23,000 ex-service men have already been enrolled for the correspondence instruction in the United Y. M. C. A. Schools. This instruction service is distinctively of the individual kind, adapted closely to the particular needs and aims of the student. The latest text-books are used, supplemented by clear lesson guides and frequent letters from a competent, sympathetic teacher.

There are no extra costs, except postage on answers sent to the instructor. Even instruments are furnished with the drawing courses. A unique Students' Service Department takes an active interest in all personal problems, including personal development, employment, business relationship, etc.

Our counsel is free. Learn about a new kind of instruction-by-mail service—one that 96½ per cent of the students, answering from the state of Ohio, recently said was very satisfactory to them. The opportunity to secure this high-grade instruction service at half rates is available only while the funds appropriated last. Better act quickly.

"WILD" CALF PLAYS

ST. LOUIS, March 7.—A "wild" calf, at times pursued by police rangers and a crowd of persons, and at other times the pursuer, terrorized the residence section here.

The calf bolted up the steps of a fashionable apartment, into several places of business and finally was shot. In emerging from one business place the calf carried the door sash with her. Just what made her "wild" has not been determined.

PLAN TAX LEVY FOR UPKEEP OF CITY PARKS

Recommendation by the park commission that the city council submit to the voters of the city a proposal to establish a tax levy of three mills on the dollar for upkeep of city parks and salary of a city forester; that a city forester or tree warden be appointed, and that an ordinance be passed giving the commission legal authority to enforce its regulations, and request by the city council that the ordinance be enforced in Santa Ana were features of the meeting of the city council last night.

Mrs. W. L. Grubb, secretary of the park commission, presented the recommendations of that body and Harlan Kittle made the request for the city council to take action.

Both matters were referred to the council as a committee of the whole. The park commission also recommended that W. J. Vanderbruggen, custodian at the park, be employed under contract at $135 a month to supervise all park work and pay for it out of salary, except heavy work, such as pruning trees or for help on special occasions when the park is used for large crowds.

To Beautify City
According to the official action of the commission in adopting the recommendations, they were made "in view of the fact that there is evident desire on the part of citizens of Santa Ana to beautify the streets of our town and to co-operate with public officials in the work they are attempting in the matter of making Santa Ana a clean, uniform, beautiful city; with attractive, well kept streets."

They suggest that the commission be empowered to appoint a city forester and such assistants as may be necessary, compensation to be such as the commission may recommend. In the interest of greater uniformity in tree planting, it is proposed that the city forester shall superintend the selection and planting of all trees used in public parkways, superintend all pruning and trimming of trees; receive application for permission to plant or remove trees; prescribe regulations for the care and preservation of trees and enforce all ordinances for the protection and preservation of trees.

Would Impose Fines
Under the proposed ordinance, as outlined by the commission, a fine would be imposed on any one wantonly injuring, defacing, breaking or destroying any ornamental tree or shrub; for hitching a horse or other beast to trees growing in parkways or affixing or placing on trees in public parkways any play-bill, picture, announcement, advertisement or other thing, or for cutting painting or marking such trees except for protection.

The council is asked to appropriate such money as may be necessary for the extermination of insect pests by removal of such trees and plants as may be infested with pests.

The civics classes made a plea for preservation of old landmark trees. Appreciation of the new lights and paving on Main was expressed. The classes request "that garbage be collected more regularly in all parts of the city; that vacant lots be made more attractive, some of the most unattractive lots being at Broadway and Second, Fourth and Bristol, Ross and Walnut and along the railroads; that the electric light company be urged not to allow lights to burn all day in some parts of the town, as on North Ross, Twentieth, Main and Santiago and that the storm drain system be improved.

Sanitary Conditions
Suggestion was also made that a commission be selected to see that proper street trees are planted and that trees that are landmarks be preserved.

Criticism was made on the sanitary condition of the drinking fountains at Fourth and Main, Fourth and Ross and on Bush, between First and Second. Better ventilation in theaters and enforcement of sanitary regulations as they pertain to restaurants were urged.

The classes offer their assistance in these matters, if the council desires it.
City Engineer Knox was directed to prepare plans and specifications for paving Durant street from Washington to Fifteenth with five-inch concrete with belt finish. J. R. Mayer, representing the petitioners, requested that action be taken for paving Washington avenue from Broadway west to Durant so as to give Durant street a paved outlet. The matter was referred to councilmen W. A. Greenleaf and C. H. Chapman.

The street superintendent was directed to plow and grade Ninth street, between Bristol and Artesia, up to the point where a row of stumps occupies the street.

Referred to Police
Request of Chris Sorenson for permit for a billiard room in the basement of the Sam Hill Market, Broadway and Fourth, referred to police commissioner.
Request of Horace Murphy for permission to operate a tent theater on West Third street, opposite Birch park, was granted, the license fee to be $5 a day. The request was granted after investigation of the location of the tent and whether license be issued at $5 a day or $50 for each performance, the latter covering circus. Later in the evening an amendment to the ordinance placing traveling tent theaters under the $50 license fee was given its first reading.

Request of H. Thorson for permit to establish a pasteurizing and milk bottling plant on East Second, near the P. E. tracks, was referred to Chapman and Greenleaf.

Application of M. O. Hawk for permission to locate an auto parking station at 411-13 North Sycamore was granted.

Petition of property owners that the city grade and gravel West Chestnut from Flower to Baker, the owners to pay for the gravel, was granted. The street superintendent was directed to do the work when the owners deposit money sufficient to cover the estimated cost of the gravel.

CO-EDS REPORT MAN USING WHIP ON THEM

MADISON, Wis., March 7.—Women residents of the university section of Madison reported to the police that a man with a rawhide whip had been assailing girls during the last few nights, striking them with his whip and then running away. The man was said to have approached girls alone on the streets and without warning to have struck them around the body. Screams of a girl brought a number of persons to the scene where a whipping was said to have taken place, but the man had escaped.

SET PLANS FOR EBELL DANCE ON FRIDAY

Chairmen of committees in charge of preparations for the Ebell dance and card party to be given Friday evening in the garage building of the Excelsior Creamery company today were energetically working on plans to make the event one of the greatest successes in the history of the organization.

At a joint meeting of the committee on ways and means of the club and the committee heads, plans were discussed and arrangements made for the handling of details of the affair.

Following adjournment, the committee chairman went to the building and selected locations for the various booths to be placed in the building. Arrangements have been made for rolling the ground on the lot to provide parking space for two hundred or more automobiles, expected to be parked on the grounds. A special officer will be detailed to watch the cars.

It was announced today that Elmer Heidt, Santa Ana representative of the Auto club of Southern California, will be floor manager for the dance. Mrs. Ray Chandler, who is chairman of the committee on music, has arranged for the Bouldin ten-piece orchestra to play, it was stated.

A large detail of women will start Friday morning in decorating the garage building, while others will engage in preparation of the booths.

The booth committee chairmen will be assisted in the booths Friday night by various sections of the club, as follows:

Ice cream, Mrs. H. T. Trueblood, six households; economics section, sandwiches and coffee, Mrs. Cora Cavins, third and fifth sections; punch, Mrs. E. U. Dickinson, fourth section; candy, Mrs. Fred Rowland, first and third economics and all four of the travel sections.

Decorations will be under the supervision of Mrs. Maude Chase, of the art section.

EMPIRE STATE RACING BOOMED LAST YEAR

ALBANY, N. Y., March 7.—New York State's racing association, in a report for 1921, submitted to the legislature today, declared that racing of thoroughbred horses in the state continues to furnish the public "a recreation popular and wholesome."

The report said the encouragement by the public enabled racing associations to increase awards to horsemen and improve their tracks so that the state "now boasts of courses unequalled anywhere in the world."

WILD ANIMALS SCARCE
HALIFAX, March 7.—A scarcity of wild animals—bears and wild cats—on the snouts of which the municipality pays bounties, is reported. During the year 1921 only $148 was paid for bounties, while not many years ago it ran up to $500, and a great many bears were included. Now the bounties that are paid are chiefly for wild cats.

On motion of J. W. Tubbs, the city attorney was instructed to make a demand on Steele Finley for money collected for inspection fee for paving work on Orange avenue.

DEALERS GREET WILLYS, START SALES DRIVE

All over California today Willys-Overland dealers are off to a flying start in "the greatest selling campaign ever put on by automobile dealers anywhere."

At a meeting of the dealers in Los Angeles yesterday, around the banquet board at the Alexandria hotel, both John N. Willys the creator and managing head of the Willys-Overland organization, and Charles Y. Knight, the designer of the wonderful Knight sleeve-valve motor, were present. Accompanying the dealers as their guests were many lawyers, bankers and newspaper men. Those who were present from Santa Ana, as the guests of George Ash and Roy Lindsay, were F. L. Austin, the daddy of the Overland-Willys-Knight agency in this city; E. L. Crawford, cashier of the California National bank, and J. P. Baumgartner, editor of The Register.

In character the luncheon was very much like a Kiwanis luncheon, except that the menu was more elaborate.

Ernest Culver, Pacific coast manager for the Willys-Overland organization, presided.

Makes Peppy Speech
Perhaps the peppiest speech of the occasion was that of John McCracken, who has just come from Toledo to Los Angeles as salesmanager. McCracken holds the world's record in salesmanship, having sold 117 Willys-Knights in one week during an automobile show at Toledo.

Charles Y. Knight in the course of his talk, said that the Willys-Knight factory is making the best Knight motor in the world—"and," he added, "I don't care if you tell every one of my customers that I said it."

Willys made it clear that the financial affairs of his company are in excellent condition and are constantly improving. He has relieved himself from responsibility for all auxiliary and supplementary companies and is devoting his entire time and energy to the making and selling of Overland and Willys-Knight automobiles.

Emphasize Big Value
Over and over, by all the speakers, the statement was made and emphasized, that "at the new prices the Overland-Willys cars are the biggest and best automobile values in the world."

To this the dealers all agreed, and unquestionably everybody was absolutely sincere in the matter.

A challenge was received from the Willys-Knight dealers in Northern California for a sales contest, but it contained no amount or terms of wager or prize. This, Willys explained by saying the challenge was sent by a Scotsman named Stewart. Willys said, however, that he himself would offer as trophy a $1000 loving cup. And this was supplemented by a guarantee from Ernest Culver, Pacific coast manager, that if the Southern dealers should win, the Northern dealers would charter a train and give the winners a free trip to San Francisco and entertainment while there. The Southern dealers accepted the challenge and agreed to the terms.

Like Kiwanis Meeting
As has already been stated, the meeting was much like a Kiwanis club luncheon on a large scale. About 250 men were in attendance, and throughout the dinner there was singing of what may be called automobile parodies on Kiwanis songs, as for instance, to the tune of "Smiles":

"There are cars that have the cushions,
There are cars that have the springs,
There are cars that have some fancy trimmings,
At a price an ocean liner brings.
There are cars that have a silent motor,
There are cars that make your gas bills light,
But the car that give you all these features,
Is the one car the Willys-Knight."

And then to the tune of "Long, Long Trail," they sang:
"There's a long, long line of thrift cars,
A winding out of the past,
With an equal line of prospects,
And the salesmen for the task,
There's a lot of satisfaction,
In sellings cars that are fine,
But the ones that have them going,
Are the good old Overland line."

"Something Doing"
Certainly if all the dealers present are as thoroughly sold on the big value of the Willys-Knight-Overland cars, "at the new prices—don't forget that," as our Santa Ana dealers are, there's going to be "something doing."

George Ash said yesterday: "We are putting on three new salesmen this week, for we know we've got the goods—at the new prices."
"And," added Roy Lindsay, his partner, "we haven't been doing so bad even at the old prices; for we've delivered fifty-seven cars in our territory since the first of last September."

Incidentally, no one need be surprised to see Frank Austin again on the selling job, not so very long ago, when Austin was conceded to be one of the best automobile salesmen in Southern California.

FAIR ONES TURN ATTENTION TO SHIN GUARDS AT POLY

Hockey Thrills High School Girls Who Claim Game Is Far From Rough

MAY ESTABLISH LEAGUE

Bruised Shin Possibilities Fail to Scarce Players of Virile Pastime

Hockey bids well to become a major sport for Orange county school girl athletes.

Miss Nellie Wilson, physical instructor at the high school, so stated today.

"While our efforts will be confined largely to inter-class work this year, next season will probably find a league with Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange enrolled," she said.

Miss Wilson explained that the local girls have a large number of sticks and shin guards, the only instruments necessary to playing the game, except a white rubber ball.
Practice has been in progress for several weeks and the interest at the girls in the sport is keen.

"It's a strenuous game," Miss Wilma Plavan, one of the enthusiasts, said, "but I like it."
"It may be a trifle rough, but I don't think it is dangerous."

"I've never seen any girl hurt beyond a bruised shin," declared Miss Isabel Anderson. "Of course, the contestants have to wear shin guards, and since the rules forbid the fair ones to raise their sticks above their waists, the chance of doing harm is very slight."

Likes Game
"I like the game very much," declared Miss Melvina Frye. "I don't think it is as strenuous or as rough as basketball. In the first place, there are more players in hockey, so that each has to cover less space."

"Then there is less personal contact. In this way much of the roughness is eliminated."

"I like it because more girls can play. With eleven on a team, it does not take many games to include practically all the girls. I believe that every girl should enter athletics to a certain extent."

TWO CARS DAMAGED IN COLLISION AT CORNER

Two cars were damaged in a collision at Fifth and Mortimer streets, according to a report which the two drivers, Ernest Miller and Veda Fisher, had on file at police headquarters today. The collision took place between 5:30 and 6:0 p.
m. yesterday. A front axle was bent and a front wheel was broken on the Miller car. The Fisher car received a bent fender and blew out a tire.

Anticipating the appearance of

YEAR'S BUILDING TOTAL SET AT $3,000,000

Carpenter's Hammer Beats Prosperity Tatoo Here as Figures Mount

The carpenter's hammer in Santa Ana is beating a prosperity tatoo.

Bankers, merchants, realtors—in fact, all business men of the city—are watching with intense interest the phenomenal rapid rise in the number of building permits.

They point out that if the building ratio continues here for the remainder of the year as it has since January 1, the total of new construction will mount to well above $3,000,000.

For the year to date 250 permits have been issued, representing a total building investment of $539,171.
Up to noon yesterday twenty-two building permits had been issued for this month, the valuation placed on the proposed construction being given at $146,850.

The Excelsior Creamery company
today had been issued a delayed building permit for the garage it is erecting on East Walnut street as part of the new creamery plant it is building at 1012 East First street.

The building is 60 by 250 feet, and construction is well advanced.

The building boom, it is pointed out, is not centered at any one particular section. On East Fourth street the Knox and Stout building, to house the Ford products, is being erected, and work has started on S.
H. Finley's new two-story building.

On West Fourth street work is to start at once on Walter Greenleaf's new brick building, planned for the vacant lot adjoining the old Blade building.

Extending from Broadway to Sycamore street, in the block bounded on the south by First street and on the north by Second street, the new Central market building is being rushed to completion.

Other business houses are going up on various other and widely separated sections of the downtown district.

In the meantime, the building of apartment houses and of scores of new residences in virtually every part of the city continues unabated.

Permits are being taken out almost daily for residences to be built on the new subdivisions that have recently been opened.

"Three million dollars' worth of building in 1922," say the boosters of the city. "Watch us grow!"

HARBOR VISION GROWS AS NEW JETTY LOOMS

Federal Appropriation for Added Work Seen as
Re-Survey O. K.'d

A government appropriation for the building of the east jetty and permanent improvement of the harbor mouth is a vision Orange county harbor boosters had today as one of the results of the success of Congressmen Phil Swing and H. Z.
Osborne in having an appropriation for a re-survey of Orange harbor included in the harbors and rivers bill adopted last week.

"We believe that with the improvements Orange county and the city of Newport have made at the harbor, and with facts and figures we can produce establishing that there has been considerable commercial shipping in and out of the harbor, we will get more favorable consideration from the government than we have had in the past," said Linn L. Shaw, chairman of the harbor commission, today.

Good Recommendations
Previous reports of government harbor engineers have carried good recommendations as to the possibility of developing a splendid port, but it was considered at the times of such surveys that the prospects did not warrant recommendations for appropriations.

Boosters believe that when harbor engineers are sent here for the survey and note the large amount of work that has been done along development lines, they will recognize the importance of the project and will make a report that will encourage effort to secure an appropriation.

"We believe that the improvements that have been made will impress the government engineers as to the sincerity of Orange county people in establishing a large commercial harbor at Newport," said Shaw. "We cannot hope a first appropriation of more than enough money to build a jetty on the east of the entrance, strengthen the west jetty and open up the mouth and make a permanent entrance."

See Large Harbor
"As we develop commerce and demonstrate more fully the possibility of the point being made a brief taste of what it means to be port of considerable shipping importance, we can expect more financial assistance from the government, and in time have one of the safest harbors on the Pacific coast."

The harbor commission will complete its work within the next two or three months, according to Shaw.
The funds now available for expenditure under direction of the commission are practically exhausted. By the time the funds are all expended approximately to the extent originally provided, it was pointed out.

WHIPPING POST FOR MORONS ADVOCATED

CHICAGO, March 7.—Whippingposts for morons!

This is the recommendation of Judge Marcus Kavanaugh of superior court.

"So-called morons are sentenced to serve a term of years in the penitentiary. One month after they enter prison they are given twenty lashes on the bare back with a cat-o'-nine-tails."

"The punishment apparently works, because there are very few morons in Canada."

Judge Kavanaugh said that last April the Delaware legislature authorized the whipping post for hold-up men, and there since have been practically no hold ups in the state.

HOLD MERCHANT BY MISTAKE IN FELONY CASE

A curious coincidence of addresses make of automobiles and similarity of license numbers gave William F.
Agan, well known dry goods merchant of Ocean Beach, San Diego, a brief taste of what it means to be a fugitive from the law, according to a report on file today at local police headquarters.

Because of the coincidence, the Santa Ana police arrested Agan here last evening, mistaking him for another San Diegoan for whom they had been instructed to watch.
After proving his identity, Agan was promptly released.

The San Diego police had notified local authorities that a man named Langery, wanted in San Diego on a felony warrant had left there at 2
p. m. bound toward Santa Ana in a Chevrolet and accompanied by a 13-year-old girl. The first two numbers on the license plates were 66 and the last was 1, the report stated.

Near evening, Police Officer Orin Moncrief observed a Chevrolet car with license numbers corresponding to the one he was watching for.
There was a man in the car, but no girl. Moncrief questioned the driver, who admitted he was from San Diego, but denied that his name was Langery. The man, Agan, was taken to headquarters, and repeated him explanation and denial, revealing that he was a respectable business man, manager of a department of the Whitney and company clothing store.

Agan was accompanied to Santa Ana by his wife, who was at a cafe, waiting for him to join her, when he encountered the police.

The coincidence of the car and the license numbers was discounted by the fact that the registration certificate in the car bore Agan's name instead of the name Langery, which the police were told it would show;
also by the absence of the young girl companion supposed to be with Langery.

Agan further explained the license number similarity, by saying that a great many of the San Diego numbers started with 66 because the 600,000 series were forwarded by the state motor vehicle department to the San Diego branch for distribution to car owners.

HOLD THREE MODESTO MEN FOR BURGLARIES

cion of having burglarized a number of Modesto residences, J. Roarrested by Chief of Police Lee E.

Smith, Patrolman Arlington and Deputy Sheriff Bart Hill. A wash-tub filled with canned fruit, two lap dies' overcoats and numerous other articles were found in a cabin on Sunset boulevard, where the men were making their headquarters.

One of the ladies' coats was identhat prices of food are approximately 20 per cent cheaper.

In other words, Santa Ana is more than back to normalcy, so far as cost of eating is concerned.

Take sugar, for instance.
A year ago the sweet stuff was quoted at 10 cents a pound, 45 cents for five pounds, 85 cents for ten pounds and $8.40 for 100 pounds.

Today sugar is selling for 7½ cents a pound, 38 cents for five pounds, 75 cents for ten pounds and $6.25 for 100 pounds.

Butter is selling at 48 cents a pound, as against 52 cents a year ago. Eggs are quoted at 24 cents a dozen, as against 30 cents; flour at $1.25 for 25 pounds, as against $1.55, bread for 11 and 12 cents, as against 13 and 14 cents; strained honey for 35 cents a pint, as against 45 cents and milk at a comparatively lower figure.

A year ago the buyer could obtain twelve pounds of Northern Burbank potatoes for 50 cents. Today he can obtain twelve pounds for that sum.
In some instances the present level is approximately the same as it was a year ago. On canned goods this is particularly true.

"Most grocers purchase their canned goods a year ahead," one Santa Ana grocer stated. "They are bought at the lowest figure possible, but there is lots of money tied up in them and prices will not vary so much as in the stuff that is purchased in the smaller lots or where different conditions might tend to vary the wholesale price."

Fresh Vegetables Higher
Due to frosts, some of the fresh vegetables are at a somewhat higher figure than they were in March last year, it was disclosed.

Apple prices remain at about the same standard as do those on crisco, coffee, syrups and a few other commodities.

A few prices obtained at the meat markets tell a similar story.

Smoked picnic ham sells today for 23 cents a pound, as against 23 cents a year ago; hamburger steak for 12½ cents, as against 15 cents; sirloin steak for 25 cents, as against 30 cents, and shoulder pot roast for 25 cents, as against 30 cents.

Prices on most other meats are at about the same comparative
figure.

GOING TO LIVE, ANYWAY.

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Introducing J. W. (Hard Luck) Mitchell.
An automobile hit him and knocked him unconscious. Pedestrians let him lie in the street while they phoned for an ambulance. Meanwhile another automobile ran over him. He's recovering anyhow.

The Caged Heart

I never look into a cage in which a beautiful bird has been placed but what a train of thoughts are started.

I think of the great, wide spaces of Nature — where streams run and play, where leaves sway and sing, where flowers sprout, bud and bloom and scatter to the four winds their delicate perfumes. I think of this as the real home of the lovely bird in that cage.

But pitiful and tragic as it is to cage a bird, it is not a circumstance to the tragedy of the caged heart — the heart which can look out and see all that is wonderful and appealing and satisfying, but is unable to leave its wired enclosure.

I recently saw a very worthwhile film picture. The author was Edna Ferber, the short story writer who puts heart and soul into the things she writes, as well as tinting them all the way through with cleverness and brightness.

The story was taken from the author's book, "Fanny Herself," and naturally the character which held you and gripped your feelings all along was—Fanny herself.

Fanny has a heart which was about 24 karats fine. But it was caged.

Every minute she had in mind the happiness of others—but she was longing, praying for the sweetness, comfort and cheer which she herself gave away. I was glad circumstances finally did open the cage door and let Fanny's heart out into the big world. But I was sorry that it had to be kept in for so long.

GRANT'S 100TH BIRTHDAY IS APRIL 27

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ulysses S. Grant will be observed throughout the country on April 27.

President Harding has promised to speak at the unveiling of a tablet at the great Union General's birthplace, Point Pleasant, Ohio, on the same day the Grant memorial which has been so many years in course of construction at the base of the capitol in Washington, will be dedicated with suitable ceremonies.

The movement for the 100 birthday anniversary celebration was set in motion at the Fifty-fifth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, at Indianapolis, last September. An executive committee headed by Colonel Thomas S. Hopkins of Washington, was appointed by Lewis S. Picher, commander-in-chief and a national committee of arrangements was created.

Honorary Vice Chairman.
It is headed by President Harding as honorary chairman.

Among the honorable vice chairmen are Vice President Coolidge, Speaker Gillette, Chief Justice Taft, Secretaries Weeks and Denby, General Pershing, Senators Nelson and Warren, Representatives Osborne and Yates, Governors Davis of Ohio, and Miller of New York, and the head of women's organizations related to the Grand Army as well as General Miles, commander-in-chief of the Loyal Legion and Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion.

The nature and scope of the celebration is indicated in the following from the resolutions adopted at the Grand Army encampment in Indianapolis, which recommended:

"That the national government be requested to take appropriate action for the observance of the anniversary and the congress of the United States take such measures as may be necessary to assure the dedication of the Grant memorial at Washington on the 17th of April next. This action on the part of congress we deem of first importance.

State Observance.
"That the state legislature, governors of the several states and municipal officers be urged to take suitable action to bring to the attention of the people, the great lessons taught by General Grant's steadfast adherence to his country's cause in the time of severest trial, and that all institutions of learning throughout the land be invited to celebrate the notable event, so that the deep embodiment of General Grant's life, service and character in the thought and conscience of his contemporaries may be fastened with transforming power upon the minds of the youth of the present generation.

"That special commemorative services be held at Point Pleasant, Ohio, the place of his birth, and at Riverside, New York, the place of his burial.

Observance in Schools.
"That patriotic exercises be held on that day in the schools and churches of the land, that the memorable occasion may not pass without leaving deep and abiding impressions upon the hearts of the young, and strengthen the faith of those who believe in the God of our Fathers and in the priceless boon of civil and religious liberty. Your committee further recommends that the incoming commander-in-chief be authorized to formulate a program or order of exercises for the national posts on that occasion, and that all members of the Grand Army of the Republic, in so far as they may be able, shall participate in some simple yet direct way in honoring the memory of Ulysses S. Grant.

"That all patriotic societies and organizations representing the several states in which the United States has at any time participated, be requested to unite in the celebration of the anniversary, and that the Woman's Relief Corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, and all orders allied to the Grand Army of the Republic, be invited to join with us in honoring the memory of General Grant."

Veterans Raise Memorial.
The memorial in the Botanical Garden at the foot of the capitol, which will be dedicated simultaneously with the exercises of General Grant's birthplace at Point Pleasant, Ohio, was conceived by and erected with funds gathered by the surviving veterans of the army of Tennessee. Many vexatious delays occurred after the sculptor began his work, but the handsome bronze groups were completed at last. The dedication will be under the auspices of the committee including Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, Secretary Weeks, Bishop Fallows of Chicago and Colonel Clarence O. Sherrill of the army engineer corps.

Grant's birthday anniversary comes almost on the fifty-seventh anniversary of General Lee's surrender at Appomattox which took place on April 9, 1865. At the close of the Civil War, Grant's name was more frequent on the lips of the people than that of any other American, unless it was Lincoln. In 1869 he became president and was re-elected a second term. So his name continued to be before the people.

Always a Favorite.
After retiring from the presidency in 1877 he was for a time less in the public eye, but he still was a favorite. His unfortunate business venture some years later excited the sympathy and concerns of his friends. It was known that he was reduced almost to poverty. Then followed his illness from the dread disease of which so little is known even now.

When Grant began the preparation of his memoirs, he was ill. It became known he was hoping that, when published, the two volumes would yield a competence for his family. His sufferings increased as the work went on, and at last, it became a race between him and death, while mankind watched and waited in anxiety for the result. Grant conquered, for he lived to complete the work. That accomplished, he welcomed the relief from

BARITONE BANS TALK ON RECITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin. In accordance with the custom of the singer to be as quiet as possible just preceding a concert, this dinner will be a very quiet affair with only the host and hostess and the two distinguished guests present.

"I have never known an artist to live so exclusively for his art," declared Gustlin in discussing Fanning's well-known habit of being absolutely quiet on the eve of a recital.

"No matter what may be the inducement to relax and have a pleasant social time, his rule remains unbroken. He even refrains from conversation as much as possible, so that when the hour comes for his appearance, his vocal cords are absolutely fresh and unstrained."

An interesting thing in regard to Fanning is an added artistic gift that is not so well known, and that is his ability as a writer.

Many of the songs he offers are his own, one of especial beauty being "A Sicilian Spring," for which Leonore Von der Lieth composed very beautiful and appropriate music.

The libretto of the Indian opera, "Aligala," by Francesco de Leone, was written by Fanning, while he has one or two other librettos to his credit.

Incorporated in his program to be presented tonight will be one of the lyrics from "Aligala," while Santa Ana will also back in the reflected glory of one of its own composers when Clarence Gustlin's song, "Left," will be sung.

Fanning has used this song as a part of his favorite programs all through the season, and declares that it always meets with enthusiasm.

BONDS CARRY FOR UNION HIGH SCHOOL

FRESNO, March 7.—The election for the formation of a central union high school district, comprising Barstow, Roosevelt, Huntington and Pershing school districts, carried 80 to 36, it was announced by Clarence W. Edwards, county superintendent of schools.

It was reported that all of the school districts, except Barstow, were in favor of the formation of the district.

It was announced that another election for the issuance of bonds to obtain funds with which to construct the school will be held at a later date.

DISCUSS TOBACCO GROWING IN STATE

FRESNO, Cal., March 7.—Tobacco growing possibilities in California were discussed at a meeting at San Francisco Thursday of land owners, experts from the state and federal departments of agriculture and the University of California and of representatives of chambers of commerce, and a committee of nine will be appointed to make a thorough investigation.

Climate and soil in the state are such that an industry producing a 60 million dollar crop annually can be developed, it was asserted by Alfred Aram of Fresno, provided that congress levies a duty on the importation of foreign tobacco. He said all growers would have to raise the same varieties for the venture to be successful. Tobacco factories would locate here if plantations succeeded, Aram said, and the wages in the industry would total about 21 million dollars a year.

That was nearly thirty-seven years ago. Other wars have intervened, great national and international problems have arisen and commanded the attention of the people, and thus the name and the fame of Ulysses S. Grant have not figured so prominently with the people as they did forty or fifty years ago.

But during the more than half a century those veterans served under him and who loved him, have never wavered in their devotion to his memory. The veterans of the Civil War are fast disappearing. In a few years there will be none left. But old and feeble though they be, the mention of the name of their leader still stirs their martial spirit and awakens fond memories.

WAS A BROKEN- DOWN WOMAN

Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true."—Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

Note Mrs. Landry's words—"as it is true." Every lady recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine. It is a statement telling the merits of these medicines just as the women in your own neighborhood tell each other.

EVENING SALUTATION

"To appreciate the noble is a gain that can never be torn from us."

A MILITARY HOLIDAY

The success of the naval holiday undertaking has led various European statesmen to urge a similar military holiday. Nobody will question the desirability of such a move, if it is possible. Serious efforts in that direction are being made by the League of Nations, and the premiers of France and Great Britain have agreed to leave the matter to that body instead of carrying out the original British purpose of broaching it at the Genoa conference.

It should be remembered, however, that this limitation of armies is a vastly more difficult enterprise than the limitation of navies. It was easy to limit sea armament because three or four nations controlled the sea, and the others hardly counted. Military power, potential at least, is far more widely distributed and far more easily made effective on short notice. There are a dozen or more nations in Europe any one of which might conceivably start a war. Curbing the military menace, therefore, becomes a matter of curbing all the nations—little powers as well as big powers. Nothing can be accomplished without the free acquiescence of Russia and Germany, and the Balkan states—for centuries sources of war—must be brought into the peace coalition.

Moreover, it is hardly conceivable that peace can actually be kept in Europe, even by unanimous agreement, unless the members of the peace combine consent to an international police force, to compel acquiescence in case any refractory nation tries to make trouble. And the world seems hardly ready for any such control as yet. Armies may be cut down, and peace on land made more likely, but at present it cannot be guaranteed.

THE MOFFAT TUNNEL

The whole country should be interested in the request made by the receivers for the Denver & Salt Lake railroad asking for a government loan of $6,500,000 to construct a tunnel through the Rocky Mountain Divide west of Denver.

This is the famous "Moffat Road," one of the most adventurous bits of American railroading, which runs through the loftiest and perhaps the most wonderful scenic route in the United States. With more enterprise than money, the promoter of the line was never able to realize his plan of carrying it through to Salt Lake. Recently it was forced into bankruptcy, and for a time was in danger of abandonment. It would be a pity for Colorado and for the country if so bold an undertaking should be allowed to starve to death for lack of a few millions.

The tunnel proposed would lower the elevation, at the Divide, to 9,190 feet, making it practicable to haul heavy freight over the range and complete the line as first intended. That would provide a new and valuable transcontinental route, facilitating traffic, opening up enormous coal deposits and giving the public access to stupendous mountain scenery.

NATIONAL PARK FUNDS

If Senator Cameron of Arizona has his way, there will be no more money spent in developing and improving the great national parks until it is assured that the public generally will benefit by the expenditures instead of one or two corporations and a few wealthy persons.

The senator complains that one corporation controls the concessions in all the national parks and reaps a handsome profit from the public and that many of the appropriations are disbursed in such a way that a few "millionaires" benefit instead of the many common people who help to pay the taxes. Largely at his instigation an appropriation for developments in Grand Canyon park in his own state was cut from the interior appropriation bill.

If Senator Cameron is right, it is well to call a halt on all such appropriations until matters can be set on a better footing. But with the constantly increasing number of delighted visitors to our national parks every year, and these by no means confined to the millionaire class, it would be a great pity if a wave of adverse sentiment were allowed to stop any legitimate development which helps to make the wonder spots of America convenient and accessible for the average traveler.

WRONG SCHOOL STANDARDS

A timely warning was given to educators, at the recent Chicago convention, by Prof. Traube of Columbia university, on the subject of "intelligence tests." He pointed out that those who test low in "abstract intelligence"—that is, in the ability to deal with abstractions rather than concrete facts—may rate high in mechanical intelligence. The teacher, therefore, he insisted, must not attempt to discriminate between the two, to the detriment of those whose rating in abstract intelligence is low.

"The teacher must recognize that the street sweeper may be just as great a success as a lawyer or a teacher."

That is an extreme illustration, perhaps, but the reasoning is clear and sound. It is a matter of common observation that those who, in school, are able to catch general ideas quickly and talk about them glibly, are not always the most successful in later life, and that there are types of mechanical intelligence just as distinct and useful as those with more capacity for book learning. Many a child dull at his books makes a wonderful mechanic. He simply has brains of a sort different from the "scholar."

Fortunately, modern schools are recognizing this fact more and more, and providing technical training along with the abstract training for those naturally adapted to it.

NINE MONTHS OF SCHOOL

The women's clubs of Pinellas County, Fla., at a recent meeting decided to raise a fund of $40,000 in order that the schools of the county might be kept open for the full nine months instead of for short terms only. It is an undertaking which few male organizations would care to face.

It is unfortunate that it should be necessary anywhere for private individuals to finance an educational undertaking of this kind. Public funds should be forthcoming in sufficient amounts in every state in the Union to assure adequate schooling for every child. But it is typical of the intelligence and the public spirit of modern clubwomen everywhere to supply the need when through some faulty system of taxation or legislation the child is being robbed of his rights, or any legitimate avenue of human advancement is being closed.

WHAT RADIO IS GOOD FOR

With everybody going in for the radio telephone fad, it is well for the public to get clearly in mind just what the radio is good for. Secretary Hoover has pointed out its limitations along with its advantages. The wireless phone, he explains, will never be used generally for purposes of communication between individuals, as the ordinary telephone is. Such use would be impossible without individual wavelengths in every case, corresponding to individual wires, and there are not enough different wave-lengths to go around. It is necessary to divide the wave-lengths among large groups and interests, if everybody is to be taken care of, and that bars promiscuous conversation.

Aside from government use, however, there is left a definite and broad field for wireless use. It involves "the spread of certain predetermined material of public interest from central stations." This will be limited to news, education, entertainment and commercial purposes and other matters that may happen to be important to large groups at the same time.

Senders, therefore, must be limited. Put receivers may be unlimited. The "broadcasting" will be done from certain licensed and controlled centers, and anybody who wants to may buy a receiver and "listen in" to whatever interests him.

Why all the row about the report that George Washington had red hair? Thomas Jefferson had red hair, and from the trouble they made for the British, we'll bet Patrick Henry and a lot more of those revolutionary fathers had. It was a red-headed revolution.

Certain congressmen have written to Chairman Forney of the House ways and means committee, asking for a bonus measure "passed without any obnoxious tax." Now there's a fine idea! Why not let Congress take care of all the other government expenditures "without any obnoxious tax?"

Some statesmen still seem to have difficulty in distinguishing between "entangling alliances" and disentangling agreements.

Culture of Past Ages

Bakersfield Californian

Lest we pride ourselves too highly on the achievements of our modern civilization, Dr. Legrain, curator of the University of Pennsylvania museum, has reminded us of certain conditions existing five thousand years ago. Expiring parties sent out by that Museum have been uncovering the history of past civilizations where it has long lain under the shifting sands on the plains of Asia Minor.

Among the things learned about the long vanished populations of that region and their customs, says Dr. Legrain, are that humanity in those days was not much different from what it is today. It had to deal with swindling contractors and dishonest public officials. Records on clay tablets have been dug up telling of the trials of those offenders and their punishment by being drowned in the Euphrates.

Those ancient people also had a banking system similar in essential details to that in effect in America today, continues Dr. Legrain. They had a postal system, a parcel post, circulating libraries and other enlightened institutions.

Evidently the people of these times have no good reason to believe that there is really anything original about their culture. In those days they appear to have had most of the comforts of life in which we find the greatest satisfaction. The scientists conducting the explorations over there have not yet found any evidence that in those dim, distant days there existed any such discomforts as automobile speed demon, the hold-up man, income taxes, profiteers, bootleggers or Ford jokes. In view of all this, therefore, those persons who lived five thousand years ago may have realized more comfort and happiness out of life than we do today.

One More Big Industry

San Francisco Chronicle

One more big industrial plant is headed for California. The Willys-Overland company, tired of paying freight on complete automobiles, has determined, according to its president, to establish an assembling plant in this state.

There is a double testimonial to California in this decision of one of the largest of motor car manufacturers to set up an organization and a factory here and transfer to it a considerable portion of its operations. On the one hand, it is a tribute to California's ability to purchase many automobiles, and as such the judgment of a business expert on the essential wealth and prosperity of this region.

On the other hand, this is evidence of the confidence of a general of industry in the manufacturing future of California. That this state, with its abundance of power, of oil and gas fuel, and of a wide range of raw materials with all Pacific sources open at its door, would one day develop great industries has long been foreseen. That day has waited only for the increase of Pacific coast population to a size to provide sufficient market for local manufacturing industry. And that day has now come and the industries are coming with it.

Will Not Oppose Swing

Riverside Enterprise

Senator Lyman King will not be a candidate for congress in opposition to Congressman Phil D. Swing of the Eleventh District. He says so himself in an editorial called forth by such a suggestion from Los Angeles. Following is what he says, which is sufficiently emphatic to be clear:

The writer of this column is informed that the Los Angeles Times said in its political news yesterday that Senator King of Redlands expects to be a candidate for Representative in Congress, against Phil Swing, the incumbent of the office in the Eleventh California district. We refuse to spend all Sunday in wading through the mass of unimportant stuff appearing in the Sunday Times, so have not seen the item referred to, but Senator King thereby says that he does not expect to be a candidate against Phil Swing. Possibly not gifted with a large amount of political acumen, yet Mr. King thinks he knows too much to go up against Phil Swing for Congress, even if he wanted to do that thing, which he does not. Neither will Mr. King be a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, as has been suggested, and in the absence of a reapportionment of Congressional districts, will likely enjoy himself merely helping his friends during the campaign ahead of us.

THE GREATEST ARTIST IN THE WORLD

I sat watching her from the opposite side of the car. It was a long journey, so I had a fine opportunity to study the work of this infinitely skilled artist.

She held a baby in her lap. Between its smiles and tears, the artist worked—and worked—and worked. Artists are not artists unless they work long and hard.

Little reaching toes. Smiles—every one with a dimpled setting. Soft, silky hair—like threaded gold. A wiggling body of no really great importance—except to the artist. A heart with blood smoothing its way through, which is just as sensitive to the warm touch of the artist's hand as is the cultivated mind to a noble thought.

The hours go by, yet the artist works on at her masterpiece.

And she knows that she is at work on a masterpiece. Therefore weariness and the toll that toil takes from her heart and body are as nothing.

Now the restless little body falls asleep—and lies across the seat where the artist's eyes may watch and love.

What will the completed picture look like? Who will look upon it? In what galleries will it hang? Will the critics understand that a real artist put her life-blood into this supreme effort? And that her paints were mixed in her heart?

Now the dreamer has come into day again. And the work of the artist goes on.

And it will go on through the years, until the work of this indefatigable one is ended and the masterpiece has been completed.

For no artist ever mixed paints or wrote literature or builded structures, which in beauty and expressed love can compare with what a Mother puts into her child!

Just so long as time shall last, will a Mother remain the greatest artist in the world.

VISION

I came to the mountains for beauty
And I find here the toiling folk,
On sparse little farms in the Valleys,
Wearing their days like a yoke.

White clouds fill the valleys at morning,
They are round as great billows at sea,
And roll themselves up to the hill tops
Still round as great billows can be.

The mists fill the valleys at evening,
They are blue as the smoke in the fall,
And spread all the hills with a tenuous scarf
That touches the hills not at all.

These lone folk have looked on them daily,
Yet I see in their faces no light,
Oh, how can I show them the mountains
That are round them by day and by night?

Keen Sense

An interesting example of the sense of smell in field mice came under my notice recently, writes a correspondent. I was staying at a house in the country where the field mice easily gain admittance by climbing up the ivy and entering through the casement windows. This happened while I was there, and, finding a litter on my dressing table, I discovered that these little creatures had found what many people failed to do—that my beads were simply beans and peas painted and varnished.

Battle Against Barbarism

Minneapolis Journal

War has been in the world so long that many people assume they know altogether too much of this unpleasant subject. But modern scientists have brought out some rather new and interesting phases of this old, new theme.

For example the history of mankind is now roughly divided into three great stages—savagery, barbarism and civilization. In savagery, men were children of nature, living on wild fruits of the earth and not making any attempt to control their destiny or surroundings. In barbarism, men began to cultivate the soil, to raise domestic animals and to have property. Civilization begins with the keeping of historic records and the beginnings of a certain social self-consciousness. Moreover, it is now demonstrated that war was not a primitive condition, and it did not belong to the state of savagery. The most primitive folks were so engaged in a struggle against the brute world and physical nature that they did not have much time or inclination to fight with each other. They had more important business on hand.

War began with the state of barbarism, when men had property and encroached upon each other's domains. With barbarism comes the development of warlike weapons. Militancy and exploitation came to barbaric stage.

It is now generally recognized that many institutions of barbarism project themselves into civilization. Predativeness, love of ease, exploitation and extravagant display, mark the course of written history, but they trace back to barbarism.

This is why social progress means a constant struggle against reversion. The higher phases of culture must consciously be cherished if they are to be maintained. When power is sought and predatory imperialism is cherished, then civilization is riding on thin ice and may at any time revert to barbaric impulses. This is why present day attempts at peace making are really a battle against barbarism. Progress is tentative and conditional. The delicate fabric of civilization may at any time be torn by these projections from the past. If justice is to be done to present day peace makers, it is highly important that the difficulties of their task be understood.

They are really trying to develop a spirit and machinery that will forestall reversion to barbarism. Civilization is still comparatively youthful and something of a veneer. Can the civilized peoples of western Europe win their battle against barbarism? They can if they are willing to give up some barbaric things and desires and, with a sincere heart, unite to make permanent the victories of peace.

Bear Stories for Bedtime

Chapter 287

BILLY BEAR'S NEW DANGER
By Harvey Elliott

Billy Bear had some very thrilling experiences before he started on his long winter's nap. It was late in October when the leaves were falling from the trees and when Bushy Squirrel was busiest getting his winter supply of nuts and carrying them into his hollow tree.

Tommy Smith had told some of his friends that that beautiful young Bear that so often visited the Smith Farm, and of the many clever tricks he had performed while there. He told of his beautiful black coat with its tinge of brown. He told of how provoked he used to get at the mischievous things the Bear would do, and how he wanted to punish him the next time he got a chance. Then when Tommy would see how pretty that Bear was and how cute and funny he acted, he didn't have the heart to hurt him.

But the report of Billy Bear reached a man in the city who owned a circus. When the circus man heard about the wonders of this remarkable little Bear he determined to capture him and put him in his circus.

The circus man inquired where the little Bear lived and he learned that it was away out on the foothills of the mountains some where in the region of Farmer Smith's ranch.

Then the circus man made plans for capturing Billy Bear. He and another man went out and camped in the woods with three fine hunting hounds. They scoured the woods for three days trying to find some trace of the little Bear.

The third morning the hounds began to growl and put on their chains, trying to get loose. The men looked out and saw the bristles of those hounds raised clear to the end of their tails.

"There is something unusual around here," said the circus man. "Those dogs either smell or see some big game. Maybe it is our Bear."

Sure enough, over on the next hill went Billy Bear, ambling along in the direction of Farmer Smith's ranch. The circus man danced a jig for joy. It was the very Bear he wanted!

"My! Isn't he a dandy!" said the circus man. "He is worth a thousand dollars to me if he is worth a cent. Won't he be pretty, looking out through the bars of a show cage? All right, old doggies, we'll go after him as fast as we can."

So the circus man and his partner and their three hounds started out to capture Billy Bear.

Little Benny's Note Book

By Lee Pope

Pop wouldn't leave me go out last Sunday afternoon on account of me exsidently breaking 2 of his cigars while I was seeing if I could juggle with 3 at one time, and he sent me up to my room and I herd the fellow outside and I had a good ideaer and I snuck over and looked out the front window and the fellows was setting over on Sam Crosses front steps and I waved ad Puds Skinkins ran over and I sed, Hey Puds. I aint allowed out, if you fellows ring our bell one at a time and ask for me maybe my father will get tired of ansering it and maybe he'll leave me go out.

All rite, sure, I'll ring it ferst, sed Puds. And I quick snuck back to my room and jest then the bell rang and I herd pop going down stairs on account of him being the only one in except me, and I leened over the banisters to heer what happened. Puds' saying, Is Benny in, Mr. Potts?

He is, and thats were he's going to stay, sed pop. And he shut the door hard and went back up to the setting room and pritty soon the ball rang agen and pop went down agen tawking to himself and I herd Sam Cross saying, Can Benny come out, Mr. Potts?

He can not, and you can tell that to whoever eits it may concern and save me the trouble, sed pop. And he shut the door even harder and he hadn't hardly got back to the setting room when the bell rang agen, and pop didnt anser it and it range 2 more times and pop went down fast on his hands and knees and opened the door and sed, No he cant come out, and quick slammed it agen, calling up stairs, Benny, Benny.

Sir? I sed, Thinking, G. herray, and pop sed, Come down heer and camp in the hall and tell this stream of inquirers that youre in to stay. Me thinking, Heck, good nite. And I went down and pritty soon the bell rang and it was Sid Hunt saying, Can Benny come out, O hello Benny I thawt you was your father. And I stood there tawking to him about 5 minnits and pop called down. Shut that door, theres a draft coming up here from the North Pole, how long does it take you to say you cant go, shut that door.

Which I did, and pritty soon the bell rang agen and it was Lew Davis and after I had tawked to him about 3 minnits pop called down Benny, put on your hat and coat and get out of heer as quick as yquor legs will carry you.

Which I did. Proving its a grate thing to keep on trying.

Profitable Plays

I wonder which is the most profitable play in the history of the theater. Taken from "The Merry Widow" aggregated over 1,000,000 pounds, and the composer, Franz Lehár, netted the comfortable sum of $1,000,000. Sir A. W. Pinero is understood to have made $350,000 out of one of his plays alone—"The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," and at one time I know that Sir J. M. Barrie was in receipt of $2500 a week from royalties. And a poet has died in Kent worth $250,000. But it is only fair to add that he left a fortune in suite of the fact that he was a poet, and not because of it!—Passing Show, London.

Pointed Paragraphs

Have an empty stomach frequently, but an empty head, never.

"If we please you, tell others; if not, tell us." How often we see that appeal in barber shops and similar places. As a rule of conduct it is good enough to be in the Bible. If every one would adopt that policy there would be a swift and radical change for the better in all walks of life.

There may be a host of bad people in the world, but nearly all of the people you know are pretty decent.
